Challenge Title: KanYouFindM3?

Level : Medium

Description : A notorious malware developer, known only as KanYouFindMe, has been taunting investigators online after stealing sensitive data from a major cybersecurity firm. He claims he's "untraceable," but his ego keeps leaving a trail of clues across the internet.

Your mission: Trace his digital footprints , cut through the noise, and uncover his real name. (Flag Format : DJSISACA{FirstName_LastName})
(Attachment of the Instagram profile will be provided)

1. Instagram - First Phase

   ● A bunch of random posts with a few critical information sprinkled in.
   ● A blurry picture of the college "KJ Somaiya College of Engineering", with a comment "I hate Engineering" narrowing down the field of study.
   ● Comments left by user " 5uh5n1.e", standing for "Suhani" indicating the presence of a friend.
   ● Most critical hint : post revealing the twitter/X account : @iamjustballin. Leading to the next Phase.
   ● Additional Hint : Photos from inside 'The Burrow Cafe' which could be helpful in the next step. (Not required to decipher)

2. Twitter/X - Second Phase

   ● A bunch of random tweets full of script-kiddie posts , fake ransom messages, random hashes, and memes.
   ● One of the tweets reads "working on a CRAZYYYYYY project right now" with the project's github link in a reply's reply.
   ● It leads to his github profile, moving to the next step.
   ● Added a fake hint to troll: Incomplete URL of a google doc in one of the replies.
   ● Additional hint the last step : A tweet "DAMN i didnt know google maps had reviews ??? crazy." helping the players understand that even google maps is in play.

3. GitHub - Third Phase

   ● GitHub has multiple repositories with intimidating names like "malware-framework" and "crypto-locker-sim."
   ● A repo called portfolio seems harmless , but that repo has multiple commits.
   ● Most critical hint : Checking the commit history of README.md reveals he once included his YouTube channel handle.
   ● Added a Rickroll and Chipi Chipi Chapa Chapa link in two of the commits just to troll.
   ● The youtube channel leads to the next step.

4. Youtube - Fourth Phase

   ● The channel has weird videos with Morse code and distorted audio and wanna be hacker video, meant to waste your time.

- However, one of the Morse Code videos has the critical hint in its subtitles for the initial few seconds (0:22).
- The subtitles read "bestie posted about our fav cafe on our college wiki xD".
- There is only one other person mentioned in the entire Osint, indicating "Suhani" being the person they are talking about.
- Next step is KJ Somaiya's wikipedia page.

5. Wikipedia - Fifth Phase

- Have to reach the wikipedia page of KJ Somaiya College of Engineering in particular by piecing all the hints given by the instagram page as well the youtube video.
- In the history, there is one edit made my 'Suhani Arora' referring to the friend.
- Scrolling in the edit made by the friend, it displays "The Burrows Cafe - The Mayo Sandwich is too good." below the 'External Links' section.

6. Google Maps - Sixth and Last Phase

- Every hint has to be pieced together here. Open google maps reviews of 'The Burrow Cafe'.
- It was already mentioned that our protagonist likes to leave reviews.
- Check reviews with the keyword "Suhani".
- There is only one review, revealing the entity we are searching for : Adarsh Mehta.
